Sexual Orientation

How would you respond if the following scenario occurred to you?

Joe and Jackie are my classmates, and Joe is one of my best friends.

People laughed behind them and suspected that they were more than just “fiends”. Their intimacy also made me suspect that if they are homosexuals!

My classmates asked me to stay away from Joe, or else I would be suspected as being one of the homosexuals too.

Think:
Do you think Joe and Jackie are friends or lovers? Why and why not?

__________________________________________________________

__________________________________________________________

Would you go and ask Joe about it? Why and why not?

__________________________________________________________

__________________________________________________________

Would you accept or stay away from a friend who is a homosexual? Why and why not?